The Famous Discoverer of the Gold Cure

A GUEST AT THE MORTON

He Talks Briefly of His Great Treatment. Is on His Way to Alma to Dedicate an Institute.

Dr. Leslie E. Keeley of Dwight, Ill., the discoverer of the famous Keeley dure for drunkenness, arrived in the city last evening and, with his wife, was assigned to rooms Nos. 8 and 9 at the Morton. He was accompanied by Col. Nate Reed, editor of the Banner of Gold.

firm chin, which gives his face a decidedly aggressive appearance. His hair is gray and is getting thin on top and his shoulders have the slight stoop that is indicative of a man of studeous habits. His manner is forcible, though not venement, and his voice is evenly modulated, not rising higher than the average conversational pitch. He told a reporter for THE HERALD that there now eighty-six branches of the Keeley institute in this country, besides one in Denmark, one in Sweeden, one in Russia and one in Norway. He gave the number of graduates from the institute as 89,000, with 7,500 being added to this number every month. Out of this number Dr. Keeley estimates that only 5 per cent are num-bered with the "backsliders." In the treatment, the doctor says, a man is lifted up as a ship is lifted in the dry dock—without strain. He says he has been abused by the press and the people for not having given formula to the world, but he considers that in doing that he would kill his treatment. Regarding the statements made that the Keeley care often break men down mentally, Dr. Keeley said, "Many men come to us in such i their friends, who are anxi us to have them treated, are often willing to lie about them and say that they are all | can should be present. right with the inquor or opium out of up and we find that they are meane, they are sent home, without having re-ceived a drop of our medicine and, well—they have been to the Keeley of the season's work. Dr. Keeley will leave today for Alma, where he will assist at the dedication of an institute there and will return to this city Wendesday. Wednesday evening he will hold an informal reception in the parlors of the Morton house. His visit to Grand Rapids is purely incidental. He will be pleased to make the acquaintance of the prom-ment crizens of the city and all others that take an active interest in philanthropy and temperance. His visit is not associated with business, and he

Mrs. Keeley is a charming woman. Her interest in the great cure is second only to that of Dr. Keeley himself and her sympathetic and loveable temperament adds greatly to the deserved poputarity of her husband. She is quiet and unassuming in manner, of broad intelligence and culture, easy and poled in conversation—in short, a most delightful entertainer.

Col. Nate Reed, Jr., the veteran journatist, editor of the Sanner of Gold, is with Dr. Keeley. He is an enthusiast, in whose veins the rich blood of the brave and chivalrous Kentuckian flows. He is a believer in everything that bears the name of Keeley and one of the most gental and loyal men in the world.

Andy and His "Hosees."

Andrew Fyfe has turned his attention from politics to norse-dealing. It is not generally known that Andy is a lover of horseflesh, but he has something less than a dozen specimens in & barn at No. 206 Henry street, which he does not feel able to winter, and proposes to sell them at auction next Friday morning. Between writing up the accumulated papers of citizens and talking "noss" Andy is pretty busy.

Moving to the New Rooms.

The Y. M. C. A. rooms on Division street look like house cleaning time. A lot of men are busy packing the goods of the association preparatory to moving into the basement of the new building. The association will hold forth in South the basement until the other floors are night.

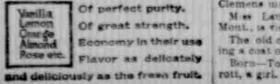

Amusements.

New stars, a new company in new plays, with new music, are promised at the new Powers' opera house this week. These are Marion Manole and John Mason, whose supporting organization comprise, among others, Robert Mc-Wade, Annie M. Clarke, Hattie E. Schell, Junius Booth, Edward P. Temple and Polly Winner. They present for the opening bill, a three-act com-edy by William Young, who wrote edy by William Young, who wrote "The Eajah," and a one-act love story incidental to the rebellion. They are respectively called, "If I Were You" and "The Army Surgeon." In addition to the above, a special performance will be given of Rotertson's "Caste" with certain musical numbers added. This should all form most agreeable and refined amusement for the opening event. Seats are now on sale at the old box office at the theater.

"Good Old Times" is not significant so far as it refers to the subject matter and movement of the play which t gives name. It is a serious drama with melodramatic tendencies, and

DR. KEELEY IS HERE the large audience which saw it on the pening night at the Grand, liked it.
The story upon which it is based was given in Tun Hanald of Sunday. It is not entirely melancholy, but the action is not at all times earnest and serious, though somewhat relieved by the introduction of comedy. It sain English theme, with English life type-fied in all of the characters, though its development is laid in Australia. The company carry considerable scenery which is handsome and appropriate, and the electric brush showing the fire fly is effective and realistic.

There was a good attendance at Smith's last night, the program open-ing up with a skit called the "Surprise in which the whole company revelled in merriment. The Lemoins did a good Chinese specialty, the Ali-cootes were clever in a sketch and and Freddie Arlington, the pg dancer, came in for a hearty round of applause. Jessie Mareno is a fair exconent of male character and the La Rose brothers' nimble trick tumbiers. Dr. Keeley is a man six feet in Eyed Monster," has the value of some height, well proportioned and apparently about 60 years of age. He has a was well presented. Rapids Electric Light and Power company. Alderman Saunders was on his leet in a moment and championed the cause of the company. He said what the city wished was good lights, not a rebate on the monthly bills. Alderman Stein moved that the amount be stricken from the roll and Friday afternoon a coffee will be given at the residence of Mrs. W. H. Anderson, No. 299 Crescent avenue, stricken from the roll and referred back to the committee on lights, which

Those Election Bills. Alderman Ball called up the matter of pay for aldermen who acted as in-spectors of election. He would like to know whether the aldermen and supervisors should draw pay as inspectors, or whether the regular salaries of these officers covered all duties which they should perform for the city. After some discussion a motion was made that the items relative to the pay of aldermen and supervisors for acting as inspectors of election be laid over for one week, and referred to the city attorney for his opinion as to the legality of the claims. The motion was lost and the comptroller's report was passed. The comptroller reported the bills of several clerks of election, ranging from $6 to $10.50. They were referred to the committee on claims and accounts. The comptroller reported, without recommendation, the bill of C. Prange of $55 interest on the final account of the Oakland avenue assessment roll. The report was referred to the committee on claims and accounts. Prof. Carman's report for the month of October was read and referred to the committee on amps. The city attorney reported that the city has not the power to purchase the five lots on Clinton street for park purposes. The matter was referred to Mr. Taylor several weeks ago when Mayor Stewart expressed, in a communication, the same ideas as those contained in the city atterney's report. The report was tabled for one week.

A Committee Did Not Agree. The committee on streets reported that the Widdicomb Furniture company was willing to remove its obstructions from Ninth street back to the curb line and would give a bond to infemnify the city against loss from ace dents which might occur there. The committee recommended that the tion to have the logway removed from the street be laid on the table. Alderman Gervers and Alderman Jacobs of the committee on streets presented a minority report recommending that the logway be removed entirely from the street. The two reports

The committee on claims and secounts recommended that Lillian B. Chute be paid $18 for injuries received on a walk in front of P. J. O'Brien's property and that a bill for that amount be presented to Mr. O'Brien. The report was adopted.

The committee on poor recommended that P. O'Donnell be supported by the city, as he is blind and helpless. On motion of Alderman Giden the re-port was tabled for one week. The same committee reported that the bill presented to the city for care of a charge sent from the jail to the U. B. A, home did not belong to the city, as the person was not a city charge. The report was adopted.

The committee on buildings recommended that the petition to have the reference library enlarged by the use of the room used by the secretary of the board of education, be placed on file. The report was adopted.

The Sherman street roll was ratified and confirmed. The Lyon street and South Union street impr vement rolls, and the East street, North avenue, and Madison street sewer rolls were laid over one week. The Logan street roll was tabled one week. The Buck-eye street sewer was ratified and con-firmed. South Union street sewer roll, Buckeye street sewer roll, Frank street sewer roll, and Cass street improvement roll were received from the commisioners and laid over one week. Cook Well Contract.

On motion of Alderman Harper the report of the special fresh water committee was taken from the table. derman Ball opposed the report of the committee. Alderman Conger said all the report seked for was a contract to be reported by the board of public works. Alderman Dregge said he did not wish to see more money spent for a supply of water until the mains were extended. He said 28c of every dollar stated that they were without proper fire protection, and asked that the council cause a fire engine house to be department, but one-fourth of the city located in that part of the city. Rethe fire department was of no use to these people. The report of the com-mittee was finally adopted.

Alderman Ball moved that the grade lines of the following streets be Packard street, Baldwin street, Dwight street, Carleton street, Fuller street, Grove street, Luton court, Dennis street and Fitzbugh street. Alderman Damekey moved that the marshal no-tify the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad company to repair the crossings on the west side, within the seventh ward. Alderman Jacobs moved that a sewer be constructed in Fair street. Adopted. The council adjourned.
